Bringing Agriculture to Communities

LIFE on the FARM

This mobile exhibit travels around Georgia educating the public, particularly children, about where food comes from, farming practices and agriculture-related careers. Participants also learn how to properly treat animals.

Millions of Georgians have benefitted from this program, and so can your school, library, church or nonprofit organization.

Although Life on the Farm is not a petting zoo, participants can touch the animals, which may include a cow, a duck, and a lamb; chickens and goats are also showcased.

The animals and crops such as cotton, peanuts and corn, are brought to your location in a livestock trailer, the only things needed are:

- Water hose hookup
- Outdoor space for exhibit to be setup
