Ag Takes You There!

The College of Agriculture, Family Sciences and Technology at Fort Valley State University can provide students a gateway to Georgia's multi-billion-dollar agricultural industry. FVSU students gain experience by participating in cutting-edge research led by world-renowned scientists. With rapidly growing career opportunities in the field of agriculture, the time is now. Become an engineer, research scientist, teacher, veterinary technician or dietician. The possibilities are endless with a degree from FVSU College of Agriculture.

FVSU offers a major in Agricultural Engineering Technology where students are trained to apply scientific, engineering and management knowledge toward solutions to problems associated with sustaining and improving agricultural systems. The Bachelor of Science Degree in Electronic Engineering Technology from FVSU is the only one of its kind available in middle Georgia and features small class sizes, individualized attention and state-of-the-art laboratories.

FVSU'S Bachelor of Science in Family and Consumer Sciences with a concentration in Food and Nutrition aims to prepare students to become ambassadors of health and wellness for families and communities. Infant and Child Development prepares students for careers focusing on providing quality and developmentally appropriate services to infants, young children and their families.

FVSU's Bachelor of Science in Animal Science is designed to teach students about animal biology, physiology, breeding, genetics and behavior. Students in this field can find careers as researchers, animal nutrition consultants, embryologists and veterinarians. This unique program offers hands-on opportunities and instructors with international agriculture experiences.

FVSU offers the only accredited Bachelor of Science degree in Veterinary Technology in the University System of Georgia.

Students earning a Bachelor of Science in Plant Science are equipped to produce abundant, high quality food, fiber and specialty crops while maintaining environmentally safe standards. Also, FVSU is the only public school in Georgia to offer the Master of Science in Biotechnology.
