The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) prohibits discrimination against its customers, employees, and applicants for employment on the bases of race, color, national origin, age, disability, sex, gender identity, religion, reprisal and, where applicable, political beliefs, marital status, familial or parental status, sexual orientation, or all or part of an individual's income is derived from any public assistance program, or protected genetic information in employment or in any program or activity conducted or funded by the Department. (Not all prohibited bases will apply to all programs and/or employment activities.) If you wish to file a Civil Rights program complaint of discrimination, complete the USDA Program Discrimination Complaint Form, found online at http://www.ascr.usda.gov/complaint_filing_cust.html, or at any USDA office, or call (866) 632-9992 to request the form. You may also write a letter containing all of the information requested in the form. Send your completed complaint form or letter to us by mail at U.S. Department of Agriculture, Director, Office of Adjudication, 1400 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20250-9410, by fax (202) 690-7442 or email at program.intake@usda.gov. Individuals who are deaf, hard of hearing, or have speech disabilities and wish to file either an EEO or program complaint please contact USDA through the Federal Relay Service at (800) 877-8339 or (800) 845-6136 (in Spanish). Persons with disabilities who wish to file a program complaint, please see information above on how to contact us by mail directly or by email. If you require alternative means of communication for program information (e.g., Braille, large print, audio-tape, etc.) please contact USDA's TARGET Center at (202) 720-2600 (voice and TDD). USDA is an equal opportunity provider and employer. Issued in furtherance of Cooperative Extension Work, based on the passage of the Food & Agricultural Act of 1977 on September 29, 1977, and in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Mark Latimore, Jr., Associate Dean for Extension for the College of Agriculture, Family Sciences and Technology, Fort Valley State University, a State and Land-Grant Institution, University System of Georgia. GREEN OBJECTIVES

Fort Valley State University's Cooperative

Extension Program wants to change the way Georgians use home energy through the Georgia

Residential Energy Efficiency Network (GREEN) Project.

Through the GREEN

Project, FVSU Cooperative Extension personnel will offer workshops and resources designed to help consumers make informed energy efficiency and conservation decisions for their home. The project also teaches consumers how to be proactive in energy usage which can result in energy and monetary savings.

GREEN WORKSHOPS

GREEN workshops emphasize the cost-savings of electric reduction measures, particularly lighting and refrigerator replacements, as well as other cost effective home performance strategies. These strategies include insulation and health and safety measures. GREEN workshops are free for groups of 10 or more persons. Workshops can be held in various locations including churches, community centers and FVSU's campus.

GREEN workshops will include discussions on the following topics:

- 💡 Energy audits
- 💡 Weatherization programs
- 💡 Heating ventilation and air conditioning systems
- 💡 Appliances and lighting
- 💡 Increasing efficiency and reducing consumption

GO GREEN EXHIBITS

GREEN will educate

Georgia residents about the benefits of energy conservation and efficiency through a travelling exhibit.

By using the exhibit, the GREEN project aims to promote sustainable living through energy efficient home appliances and lighting, eco-friendly insulation and water conservation.
